Red Mountain Fortuna III

“Fans of concentrated South American blends of Carménère and Cabernet will fall for this wine, with plenty of Malbec to boot from Red Mountain pioneers Kiona. A combination across four vintages, 2019-2022, the wine comes together wonderfully, producing ample pepper and dark fruited aromatics that will have you checking the label for a Maipo or Mendoza appellation designation. Bay leaf, violets and white pepper aromas introduce a palate with plenty of red and black berries, cocoa powder, and black pepper with savoury wild fennel, tobacco and more eucalyptus. A wonderful offering that surprises from the Red Mountain stalwarts.”
